TOP REASONS PRESS-ON NAILS MAY LIFT OR FALL OFF PREMATURELY

1. The wrong size nails. Too large or too small.
2. Improper nail bed preparation. Failing to buff away natural surface enough (see image below), or neglecting to dehydrate with alcohol to remove oils, lotions, and dust. Additionally, placing press-ons over the cuticle rather than neatly tucking them just under it creates a gap that catches hair and causes lifting.
3. Exposed to water too soon.
4. Insufficient glue application. Be sure to apply glue to both your natural nail bed AND the underside of the press-on nail to prevent air pockets.
5. Using adhesive tabs instead of nail glue.

IDEAL SURFACE BUFFING FOR A MAXIMUM TWO WEEK WEAR.
